PUNISHMENT FOR POOLSELLERS. ASSEMBLYMAN WILDS OFFERS AMENDMENTS TO THE PENAL CODE IMPOSING SEVERE

PENALTIES UPON OFFENDERS. Albany, Feb. 1 (Special).-The subject of legislation to carry out the provision of the new Con-stitution prohibiting poolselling at all times and at all places has engaged the attention of Assemblyman Howard Payson Wilds, of the XXIst New-York City District. A fortnight ago he introduced a bill amending the Ives Pool lew so as to make it conform to the provisions of the new Constitution, and repealing the so-called Saxton amendment of 1883, which made more stringent the statutes against poolselling, and was especially aimed at the men who pretended to transmit bets by telegraph to the racetracks. Mr. Wilds to-day supplemented his proposed amendment by intro-ducing two amendments to the Penal Code. That affecting Section 343 of the Code merely makes some verbal changes and strikes out a reference to the Ives law. The other measure amends Sec tion 351 of the Code to read as follows, the new matter being in quotation marks:

tion 331 of the Code to read as follows, the new matter being in quotation marks:

"Any person who engages in poolselling or bookmaking at any time or place, or any person who keeps "of occupies" any room, shed, tenement, tent, booth or building, "float or versel," or any part thereof, or who occupies any place "or stand of any kind" upon any public or private grounds within this State, with books, "papers," apparatus or paraphernalia, for the purpose of recording or registering bets or wagers, or of selling pools upon the result of any trial or contest of skill, speed or hereaft of any political nomination, appointment or result of any political nomination, appointment or result, or any person who receives, registers, records or forwards or purports or pretends to receive, register, record or forward, in any manner whatever, any money, thing or consideration of value, bet or wagered for any other person, or sells pools, upon any such result", or any person who, being the owner, lessee or occupent of any room, shed, tenemennt, tent, booth or building, "float or vessel," or part thereof "or of any grounds within this State," knowingly permits the same to be used or purpose of recording or registering such bets or wagers, or the selling of such pools, or herein keeps, exhibits or employs any device or apparatus for the purpose of recording or registering such bets or wagers, or the selling of such pools, or hecomes the custodian or depositary for "gain," hire or reward, of any money, property or thing of value, staked wagered or pledged, "or to be wagered to repledged" upon any such result; "or, any person who alds, assists or abets in any manner in any of the said acts, which are hereby forbidden, is guilty of a felony, and upon conviction" is punishable by imprisonment in the State Prison" for "a period not less than" one year nor more than two years, or by "such imprisonment together with a" fine not exceeding $2,000.

It will be seen that the provision of the Saxton law against the so-called "commission" pool It will be seen that the provision of the Saxton law against the so-called "commission" pools is inserted here, and that the penalty for violation of the law is made more severe. At present the offender may be imprisoned for one year or fined offender may be imprisoned for one year or fined not more than $2,000, or both. Mr. Wilds proposes that he be imprisoned from one to two years; the judge cannot allow him to go with a mere fine, but may add a fine of not exceeding $2,000 to the penalty of imprisonment. Another important change is to the effect that, if convicted, the offender must be sent to State Prison; the court has no discretion to make the penitendary the place of imprisonment.

GOV. MORTON WAS NOT ENTRAPPED.

Albany, Feb. B.-Colonel Ashley W. Cole, Governor Morton's private secretary, said this afternoon that he had seen it reported in special dispatches that in appointing Edward Harrigan, of Hyde Park. as State Agent for Discharged Convicts, General Lathrop, Superintendent of State Prisons, had played an adroit part by getting the Governor to name or suggest Harrigan for this position, which the Republican papers had denounced as the worst of all sinecures, and that in naming Harrigan the Governor had been led into a trap. As a matter of fact, the Covernor had never suggested or intimated Harrigan's name, or had anything to do with it. He did not believe he added, that General Lathrop had ever sall that the Governor had suggested the appointment.

FOR A REORGANIZED PARK BOARD. Albany, Feb. 1 (Special).—Assemblyman Weiton Percy, of the XIXth New-York District, has prepared a bill for the reorganization of the Park Department, after consultation with citizens who are interested in the parks of the city, and are familiar with the affairs of the department. The measure establishes a board of five members, inmeasure establishes a board of five members, instead of four, as at present, each of whom is to receive a salary of $1,000 a year. The only Commissioner who is paid now is the president of the board, and his salary is $5,000 a year. Under the Percy bill, the Mayor is to appoint a new board within ninety days of the passage of the act, the members of which are to hold office for one, two, three, four and five years. Their successors are to-have a term of five years. The new board may, within ninety days of taking office, remove any officer, clerk, employe or subordinate in the department.

A meeting of the Brown University Club in New-York was held last evening at the Arena. The president of the club, Charles L. Colby, presided. The annual election of officers was held, and re-suited as follows: President, Francis Cawton; vicepresident, William H. Williams; secretary, Gardner Colby; treasurer, N. S. Dyke; Executive Committee, Charles L. Colby, Joseph P. Earle, Charles Hitch-W. Hoppin, S. H. Ordway, T. E. Brown, cock, W. W. Hoppin, S. H. Ordway, T. E. Brown, Ira Barrows, James W. Perry and Benjamin Barker, Jr. A committee was appointed to revise the constitution, consisting of W. H. Frost, L. G. Chaffin, Ira Barrows, Gardner Coloy and Charles E. Hughes. The question of a Brown alumni dinner was left to the officers of the club, and an informal vote showed the opinion of the meeting to be unanimously in favor of holding the dinner. After the business meeting a supper was served. Among those present were F. E. Partington, J. E. Nicolai, Charles H. Payne, R. P. Hayen, J. E. Bullen, Arthur Lincoln, John R. Beam, the Rev. B. W. Barrows, C. D. Cooke and G. M. Wickes.

THEY WANT THE STATE TO HAVE IT.

The State Lunacy Commission conferred with the Kings County officials at the Clarendon Hotel yesterday afternoon in relation to the transfer of the State control. Among those present were Mayor Schieren, the Supervisor-at-Large, Mr. Fitchie; George Gretsinger, chairman of the County Farm Committee of the Board of Supervisors; President pro tem. Dyke of the Board of Supervisors; George F. Elliott, counsel for the board. Henry A. Reeves Dr. Carlos F. MacDonald and Goodwin Brown rep-Dr. Carlos F. MacDonald and Goodwin Brown represented the State. Brooklyn people want pay for the farm. Supervisor Reeve said it was cheap at $600,000. Mayor Schieren and Mr. Elliott said that while the county was entitled to pay, yet rather than see things continue as they were now, the people would prefer to see the State take the property. The Commissioners are inclined to think that the State will not pay a dollar. Another meeting will take place or Monday.

District, is getting up a counter-demonstration to the mass-meeting of indignant citizens to be held on Monday evening at the Cooper Union. The Platt-Teali-Wiskers demonstration is announced to take place forty-eight hours after the Monday evening meeting, which is under the charge of the joint reform organizations, but is to be held in the same place, according to "Ollie," who, with Mr. Wisker's assistance, is now billing the town. "Ollie" has assumed the place of "chairman of the Committee of Arrar gements," and has established his headquarters, a typewritten note from him says, in Sweeney's Hotel. Here "Olile" can confer with Mr. Wiskers during the day and go up to the Fifth Avenue Hotel and confer with Mr. Platt during the evening. It is true that Mr. Platt's name does not appear i either the posters or the dodgers for Wednesday night's meeting, but "Oille" has not been overcautious in the matter of letting his intimate friends and fellow-workingmen-Messrs. Kilboy, Golinsky. Lauterbach and Caleb Simms-into the secret that "the old man is behind it," and the argor of every 'workingman" and striker below Fourteenth-st. has been lifted to a feverish pitch of enthusiasm.

For this Platt-Teall-Wiskers gathering is to be a workingman's affair throughout. Bloated aristoerats and millionaires who live in brownstone districts are to be rigidly excluded. It will be run by the "gents" below Fourteenth-st., superintended by "Ollie" and Mr. Wiskers, though, if "Ollie" is to be believed, engineered by Mr. Platt from the seclusion of his private quarters. lie's" circular tells the public that "we are Re-publican workingmen, and believe that the workingman is as much entitled to representation and consideration as the doctrinaire and the millionaire." Neither do they "propose to be repre-sented by self-appointed spokesmen," otherwise denominated, as "the three amateurs who assume to speak for the whole community. "Ollie" is against "any single-headed Police Commission," and shows that since he forsook the latitude of the abodes of wealth uptown, and be-came a citizer of the IId District, his mind has a firm grip on the question of police reorganizaknows or speaks to the policemen on duty at the polis, while in the lower part of the city the local policeman knows every voter and has intimate personal relations with the leaders of the dominant political party."

Further down in "Ollie's" call there are deft references to "full dinner-palls," which cannot fail to be recognized as inducements of a practical kind to "raily." and a cogent appeal is made to "Republican workingmen below Fourteenth-st., and all others who believe in the bi-partisan administration of the police force of New-York, to meet at Cooper Union on Wednesday evening, February 6, at 8 o'clock, to discuss the question and pass such resolutions as may be deemed desirable for presentation to the Legislature at Albany.

"Workingmen" who are sceptical on the question of "what there is in it' can see "Ollie" any time between now and Wednesday at his headquarters in Sweeney's Hotel, and he will doubtless be able to remove any doubts on these subjects.

TALKING ABOUT LEXOW'S SURRENDER. THE BELIEF IS GENERAL HERE THAT THE SENA-TOR AND HIS ASSOCIATES HAVE DISCOVERED THAT THE PEOPLE ARE IN EARNEST.

The main topic of discussion among politicians had made up their minds to amend their bill so as to place the power of appointment of the three Commissioners to take charge of the reorganization of the New-York City Police Department in the Mayor's hands instead of the Governor's. Lexow, it was pointed out, shields his change of mind behind the statement that it is now "understood that the Mayor prefers that the power of appointment be vested in him and desires the change to be made," and "that the Governor approves as well.

Public sentiment, however, ascribed the commilter's "agreement to amend" as due mainly to the discovery that the people of New-York are in no temper to be triffed with, and that Senator Lexow and his conditators thought it wise to get out of the way of the popular lightning.

Lexow and his coadjutors to be included in the coadjutors to be compared to the way of the popular lightning.

Speaker Fish came down from Albany last evening and went to the Murray Hill Hotel. Senator O'Connor also came down. Reporters and others who sent their cards up to ex-Senator Platt at the Fifth Avenue Hotel last evening were told that "the Senator was out." GETTING READY FOR THE BIG MASS-MEET-ING.

There was another consultation in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday between representatives of the Committee of Seventy, the City Club, the Good Government clubs, and the City Vig-United League in reference to the mass-meeting which is to be held at Cooper Union on Monday illance League in terestriction on Monday which is to be held at Cooper Union on Monday evening. It was said that the reported decision by Senator Lexow to amend his bill for the reorganization of the police force so as to permit Mayor Strong to name the Commissioners on Reorganization would have no effect upon the mass-meeting, as the opposition to Esnator Lexow's bills rests chiefly on the ground-that they provide for a bi-partisan Police Board. Part of the time of the conference yesterday was spent in planning resolutions to be presented at the mass-meeting. The resolutions will not be published in advance of the meeting, but it is to be expected that they will declare against any police legislation which includes a scheme for a bi-partisan Police Board, and they also may declare against the dictation at Albany of any political boss. In addition to the speakers for the meeting, whose names were announced on Thursday, the committee may seek expressions of opinion from a number of prominent citizens and have those views read in public.

DISCUSSED RELIGIOUS NEWSPAPERS.

The Methodist Social Union held a dinner at the fotel St. Denis last night, and discussed "Religious were present, but considerable disappointment was the felt from the failure of Dr. Lyman Abbott and Henry M. Field to appear. H. W. Mable of "The Illustrated American," was the first speaker. He

A paper is religious, not because of the amount of theology it prints, or on account of the special kind of religion it advocates, but because it recognizes God as the Divine power that rules the universe and destinles of men. The thoughts disseminated by the religious papers must be inspired with truth. Truth is what the world wants. Italy, in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries, gave her supreme gift to the world in Dante's divine comedies. I think Zola is the most moral writer of the time. He teaches us the folly of being influenced by the morbid-minded invalid or the person of narrow views. We all remember a story by Zola which recently appeared in a New-York journal. The lesson it taught was truly valuable.

H. M. Robinson, of "The New-York Observer," said that the difference between a religious paper

He added: "It is therefore detracting nothing from the daily press to say that the religious paper has the broader field."

H. R. Elliott, publisher of "The Evangelist," spoke on the question. "Should Religious Papers Earn Money?" He said: "This discussion is epidemic. There are 7.00 or mere religious papers in this country, and you could count those which earn money on your fingers. There is not a paper in the United States that makes much more than a comfortable support for its employes. Most of the daily papers, and the wickedest papers, make money, and we are of the mind that it is not wrong to make it also."

Among the editors present were A. H. Bradford, of "The Outlook"; H. A. Bridgman, of "The Congregationalist"; J. M. Buckley, of "The Advocate"; H. K. Carroll, of "The Independent"; T. O. Conant, of "The Examiner"; Homer Eaton, of "The Intelligencer"; J. N. Hallock, of "The Christian at Work"; M. H. Mallory, of "The Churchman," and William H. Ward, of "The Independent."

SADAKICHI HARTMAN STIRS UP THE MANHATTAN LIBERAL CLUB WITH HIS VIEWS OF THE OPPOSITE SEX - MRS. BECKWITH ANSWERS HIM VIGOROUSLY.

The Manhattan Liberal Club, of No. 220 East Fifteenth-st., invited its friends to hear a lecture last night on "Women as Delineated in Modern Literature." by Sadakichi Hartman. The gentleman had a German father and a Japanese mother. His paper dealt with the views on women's emancipation by the most prominent authors of the last twenty-five years. In conclusion he gave some of his own views in which he seemed to throw some disfavor on the entrance of women into the arts and sciences. He also spoke somewhat slightingly of divided skirts, and thought that the highest ideal of woman was motherhood. That his remarks had created some feeling of dissent among many of the members pres-ent was perceived as soon as he had finished. Dr. Foote, the chairman, after announcing some com-ing meetings said that the lecture was open for disussion, five minutes being allowed for each speaker.

A number tried to secure the first chance, but demure-looking woman got it. She said she did not like the way the lecturer had spoken of women not caring to join the sacred bond of mat-rimony. "We are all willing," she said, "but as all have not the opportunity we must earn our own which Mr. Hartman calls us unwomanly."

Mrs. Emma Beckwith, one of the vice-presidents of the club, then took the platform. With much feeling she said: "Gentlemen, it burts my feelings o have any one take this platform and talk about Mrs. Beckwith turned toward Mr. Hartman, who sat on one end of the platform alone; and who has a smooth face and a youthful appearance. She ooked at him scornfully for several seconds, and then turned to the audience again.

"He says that we are not the physical equals of the men, and I am as strong and healthy as any man here. I study law three nights in the week;
I teach a law class; I keep books during the day;
do my own sewing, keep house, and goodness knows, gentlemen, what I don't do. I climb up elevated railroad stairs, made horribly unclean by men, which gives us plenty of reason for wearing divided skirts, which the young gentleman doesn't seem to like."

Mr. Hartman was somewhat upset by this. The audience, noticing his discomfiture, gave all their attention to him and smiled. He became more embarrassed, and Mrs. Beckwith, discerning that there was something of interest beside her speech, turned to Mr. Hartman. The latter jumped to his feet and said. "Oh, I think them very nice."

This caused a good deal of laughter. Mrs. Beckwith continued by saying that she didn't see why men should get on a platform and tell women what they ought to do. "We don't tell you what you ought to do. Many men don't seem to be what they ought and what they are said to be. I've been to Washington and seen Congressmen and Senators there and was much edified. I'd rather be here and talk to you men, who know more, if not as much, as they do, and I'm pretty sure that they don't know as much as a good many of us women."

Mrs. Beckwith was much agitated during her talk, and several times turned deliberately toward
Mr. Hartman, each time giving him a withering glance.

Many others expressed their views on this quesman here. I study law three nights in the week;

glance.

Many others expressed their views on this question, among whom was Clark Bell, who took a more serious view of the matter. He thought that women ought to have the ballot; that instead of being hindered they ought to be aided in leading professional lives, which, he thought, could in no way interfere with their womanly qualities.

Niles, Jr., Edward T. S. Lord and J. J. Roilins.

Mr. Dana began by saying some of his friends had warned him that he could not make a speech in good English to save his life, so he spoke in Latin. When he finished he introduced President Tucker, who responded to the toast "Old Dartmouth."

He spoke feelingly of the part of the control of the country of the part of the control of the control of the control of the part of the property of the part of the control of the contr

Tucker, who responded to the toast "Old Dartmouth."

He spoke feelingly of the past and hopefully of the future of Dartmouth. He declared also that none of the historical old buildings of the college should ever be removed so long as he could prevent it, and said that as much as the college should ever be would not consent to take out one year of its history for any amount of money. President Stryker responded to the toast. 'Greek or Football?' He said a little about both and a good deal about other things. President Cleyeland, he said, had three great troubles. He had gout in his foot, Congress on his hands, and the people on his back. He resembled Dr. Davis, a former president of Hamilton, who, when he was laboring hard to carry out certain projects, had the trustees, students, citizens and what alumnit there were all on his back, and he turned them all under. About Greek, as a study, he said, if he had only one boy and he was going to peg shoes all his life, and could only take one study, it should be Greek. It was not necessary for a man to be able to speak a line of Greek to have it benefit him, no more than it was necessary for a man to be able to speak a line of Greek to have it benefit him, no more than it was necessary for pieces of a grindstone to remain on a knife in order to sharpen the instrument. He did not believe in the kind of football seen last November or December, nor in allowing men to enter college because of their muscle, but he did believe in the game when properly played.

Dr. Charles E. Quimby spoke about "The Dartmouth Loving Cup." Charles R. Milier's toast was "Dartmouth and Millioulires." Ex-President Sam-

Dr. Charles E. Quimby spoke about "The Dartmouth Loving Cup." Charles R. Miller's toast was "Dartmouth and Millionaires." Ex-President Samuel C. Bartlett spoke in a reminiscent strain without any regular toast being assigned to him. The other toasts and speakers were "The Travall of the Dartmouth Alumnus in New-York." Luther B. Little: "The Class of '70." Robert H. Parkinson; "The Alumni Associations," A. W. Tenney, president of the General Alumni Association, and "The Green and White" (the college colors), Charles F. Mathewson.

Dr. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Cures Ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of Con-sumption, in all its Earlier Stages.

Although by many believed to be incurable, there is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that, in all its earlier stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully of per cent, are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectoration (including tuber-cular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were strongly prejudiced and often advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses, in curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty cod liver oil and its filthy "emulsions" and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain.

The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps.

BUSINESS DEMOCRATS ELECT OFF!CERS

THEY CALL UPON THEIR PRECIOUS PARTY IN CONGRESS TO DO SOMETHING TO RE-

LIEVE THE COUNTRY. The Business Men's Democratic Association, for many years and still under the special care and guardianship of John A. Sullivan, Collector of Internal Revenue, and "Aleck" Meakim, Clerk of the City Markets Bureau, held its annual election last There was only one ticket and the customary yearly fight over the offices of the associa-tomary yearly fight over the offices of the association was nor witnessed. Theodore W. Myers was elected president, W. I. Young treasurer, and Julius D. Mahr, secretary. The list of vice-presidents included ex-Governor Flower, ex-Mayor Edson, Hermann Ridder, David McClure, John H. Inman, D. C. Calvin, James S. Coleman and Antonio Rasines. City Chamberlain Joseph J. O'Donohue heads the Executive Committee, other members being John A. Sullivan, Alexander Meakin, Walter Stanton, Evan Thomas, Charles F. Allen, Nelson Smith, Cornelius O'Reilly, E. D. Neustadt, L. J. Callanan, A. A. Alling, John McAnerney and W. D'H. Washington.

Two series of voluminous resolutions, both offered by L. J. Callanan, were passed without serious opposition. One of these serves notice on Congress that the Business Men's Democratic Association demands "the passage of a bill which Fresident Cleveland has recommended to stop the drain of gold from the Treasury," and "the issue of a per cent bonds, payable in gold coin," The other lets the Democratic United States Senate know that the Business Men's Democratic Association of New-York wants it to repeal its rules permitting unlimited debate which "puts it in the power of a small minority to blook the wheels of legislation" and "prevents the Democratic party from carrying out the pledges of the platform on which it was elected.
